

Name lookup starts in the innermost current scope and searches outward. Repeating a name within the same scope is rejected; a new nested scope may use that name.